The Intelligencer Tourist Tickets to Chicago

GOING OFF AS FAST AS HOT CAKES.

People from Other Towns as Well as Wheeling People Embrace the Unequalled Opportunity to be Assured of Good Lodgings, Convenient to the Big Fair, and Transportation at the Lowest Rates.

The INTELLIGENCES counting room presented yesterday a scene of unusual activity. From early morning until late in the evening people were dropping in to avail themselves of the In-TELLIGENCER'S popular trips to the World's Fair or to make further inquiries concerning them. The mails also brought inquiries from points 150 miles east.

As the hour approached for the departure of the 3:50 train on the Baltimore & Ohio the counting room force was kept busy issuing INTELLIGENCER coupons for railroad tickets and hotel accommodations. Tickets were sold for persons going from neighboring Ohio towns and from as far east as Morgan-town. The result was the largest num-ber of passengers the Baltimore & Ohio has yot taken on any train to the World's Fair. This was in addition to those sent out on the early morning train, many of whom had secured Ix-TREALORNCER SECOMMODATIONS the night

The next special excursion will be on Thursday of next week. Persons ex-pecting to go on that day will do well peeting to go on that day will do well to engage their quarters now and make sure of them. The Intelligencer trips are good every day on every rain run by the B. & O. going and coming. For these trips the Intelligencer books ahead for any day, securing accommodations ahead to be ready when the visitor arrives. All telegraphing for this purpose is without expense to the visitor, who has nothing te do but to make his arrangements with the Intelligencer. The ense with which the whole thing is done has delighted everybody who has inquired into the plan of operations. Regular trip accommodations will be on sale again to-day at adverted rates. ular trip accommodations will be on sale again to-day at adverted rates. The INTELLIGENBER das arranged for be-tween fifty and sixty visitors ahead.

WORLD'S FAIR TOURISTS. People Coming from and Going to the Big Exhibition.

Says a traveling man who is well acquainted in this city and in nearly all the larger cities and towns of the country: "Wheeling is more numerously represented at the big exposition than any other community that I know of I was there last week, and every-where the Wheeling man can be seen. I ran across them in all of the state buildings, manufactures and other buildings, but particularly they are thick on the Midway. That interna-tional thoroughfure seems to have an extraordinary attraction for the aver-age Wheelingite."

PANIC AT LINCOLN SCHOOL,

Ceiling in One of the Rooms Fell-Several Scholars Hurt. Yesterday afternoon about three clock the ceiling of the room in the Lincoln school, presided by Miss Fannie Barney, loosened suddenly and with a crash, nearly half of it was precipitated to the floor. Before the thirty or forty startled scholars could utter a word, the room was entirely filled with a blinding dust, so thick that one pera blinding dust, so thick that one per-son could not see another. Then a panic cusuod that for awhile rivaled pandemonium itself. The children were utterly panic-stricken and rushed blindly to and fro. Several children were troaden under-foot and a number were injured. Among these was Mrs. James Jones' daughter whose face was badly cut. Two venturesome boys rushed to the window and jumped down into Market street, a distance of down into Market street, a distance of lifteen feet. Happily neither was in-jured. After the crash, and while the panic was at its height, Professor Jones opened the door and entered, after which he endeavored to calm the frightened cheldren. It was a consider-able length of time before his efforts were successful. Finally the dust were successful. Finally the dust cleared away, and quiet was restored. It was found that during the panic several of the scholars had been knocked down and tramped upon. The injuries of none were very serious, however.

It was very fortunate, indeed, that the smaller scholars had been dismissed a few minutes before the catastrophe, as the falling ceiling would undoubtedly have killed a number of them. The other scholars were grouped around the teacher's dosk at the time and thus escaped injury, as the part of the ceil-ing that fell was in the rear of the

A Few Words About Powell. Powell, the greatest magician without question now before the American pub-lic, and who will appear at the Opera House, Tuesday and Wednesday, Octo-ber 10 and 11, with his wonderfully clever and mystifying entertainment, is a gentleman of rare montal graces, culture and refinement. At the age of twenty he was graduated from the Pennsylvania Military Academy, with the degree of C. E. and the rank of leutenant, and for three years occupied the chair of higher mathematics in his alma mater. The close application to duties made inroads upon his health, and possessing from boyhood a genius for the study of magic, he decided to travel at the advice of his physician, and devote himself exclusively to the study of the art and the invention of scientific illusions and automate. He succeeded so well that he began a series a gentleman of rare mental graces, cul scientific illusions and automato. He succeeded so well that he began a series of entertainments which were, from the start, eminently successful. He went abroad, visting the French and English colonies, and the principal cities of Europe and Great Britain. He returned to this country in 1885, and made a tour of the southern and western states, and Maxico, and colonies and colonies that series are successful to the southern and western states, and Maxico, and colonies to Canada two years. of the southern and western states, and Mexico, and going to Canada two years later. Subsequently he visited South America, making a three years' tour of that country and the West Indios. He then sailed for New York, where he had a continuous and successful run of 207 consecutive performances. Mr. Powell is master of several languages, especially the French and Spanish, which enabled him to do great work in those countries. He is a gentleman of high principle and worthy accomplishments, and wherever he goes wins the high regard of all cultured people with whom he comes in contact. His appearance in our city will be one of the prominent fashionable events of our season's amusements.

"Lord Rooney" To-Night. "Lord Rooney" To-Night.

An exchange says of the farce comedy, "Lord Rooney," which opens a three nights' engagement at the Grand tonight: Wit scintillates in its every line and the situations are surprising and Indicrous to a degree that fairly deluges the auditorium with laughter. There is romance in it, too—pretty love-making scenes that fill the hearts of the fair sex with a joy, only they know how to descenes that fill the hearts of the fair sex with a joy, only they know how to describe or appreciate. The dresses worn by some of the ladies in the play also came in for a great deal of praise. Mattic Rooney in the serpentine dance is quite an artiste, and is one of the most graceful dancers seen for many a day. The propay's specialties and unitative. Katie Rooney's specialties and imita-tions of her father (Pat Rooney) received no end of applause.

Two sons of Edward F. Barton, who died in the carriage while being removed to the infirmary, came down from Steubenville Tuesday evening to learn particulars. The man owned a large farm near Ravenna, and also 1,200 acres in Tennessee. He left home on Monday preceding his appearance here, with over $200 in cash and the deeds for his Tennessee land, intending to close out his interests there. He had a son his Tennessee land, intending to close out his interests there. He had a son amed Reuben who left home seven years ago on account of some trouble he got into. He returned last week and was to accompany the father to Tennessee. They went to Steubenville, where these two boys work, and that was the first time they had seen their brother for seven years. He showed sizns of dissipation and was drinking, and the two wanted the father to go on by himself and let Reuben go back home. The father was willing, but the boy was not. They left Steubenville together Wednesday evening. The next known of the father is ing. The next known of the father is when he turned up at the mayor's office here in a dazed condition, minus all his money but twenty-five cents and sign of deeds or other papers about him and unable to give an account of him-self. The brothers believe that Reuben dosed his father and robbed him.
